We Learn Through Experimentation...

As scientists learn through complex and intricate experiments, we also learn by our own mistakes and by those of others. Day by day, we live on a trial by error basis--constantly learning the rights and wrongs of life.

Here at Tennessee High we are taught primarily by the repetition of scholastic concepts. This method of learning is exercised each year in that we learn certain facts one year and the following year add to this knowledge. And in the same manner we continue to familiarize ourselves with life's hardships and rewards.

In our quest for knowledge and pursuit of success, we are apt to err, and to err is human. But it is our responsibility to attempt to find the best ways of achieving our goals. Therefore we must find insight to the future through errors and through accomplishments--through experiments.

We Learn Through Observation...

Of all our five senses, sight proves to be the most beneficial. Whether we are staring through a microscope, watching an athletic event, or gazing at one of nature's miraculous creations, we are dependent upon our eyesight to provide us with the beauty or excitement within these actions.

Statistics show the importance of sight to learning. During our course of study we are introduced to many different topics; and as an aid in learning, models, pictures, or other items are shown to stimulate mental images. From these we comprehend different aspects of life and knowledge.

The actions of others influence many people. Just as each generation learns from its ancestors, we, as alert young adults, also may learn by taking mental note of the actions of others. Thus during every waking minute, we draw pleasure, we learn from, and we benefit from the virtues of observation.

o have really enjoyed having you as a teacher
this year. You are a very nice and considerate person
Khyle

We Learn Through Participation...

Nothing unites a student body more than does a club or sports activity. Through different organizations we become one--striving to better ourselves and the school. As members of clubs we promote spirit, sponsor activities, and then contribute generously to the school and community through some donation or project.

The satisfaction and results of hard work through students' cooperation may best be seen in our Viking Band. For the second consecutive year this group of over one hundred individuals is rated as Tennessee's number one band. Does not this achievement verify what students working together can accomplish?

Yes, we are proud of our Alma Mater, of our many accomplishments as a student body, and of standards we establish for students of Tennessee High. But nothing can be achieved without the support of each one of us, and, realizing this, we can understand the vital importance of participation.

Mrs. Fisher,
Well Mrs. Fisher you are rid of us and its all over,
for now. I have certainly enjoyed this class more than any class in my high school days. I have not only learned about gov. but also about life and accepting responsibility as a young person.
I am deeply in debt to you for helping with various projects, speeches, and term papers I have hit you with. Thanks for everything to a Great Teacher; and moreover, to a real friend.

Throughout the year all of our athletic events represent Tennessee High School at its best. Every sport has established morals by which its participants guide their play. We do, and of right ought to, respect these athletes for their excellent representation and for their successful year.

Mrs. Fisher,
I don't know what to say but I do know that I thoroughly enjoyed having you for World History.
I have learned a lot, just like my older brother told me. I hope you have a very nice summer and I'll see you next year.

MIGHTY VIKINGS!

Co-Conference Champions and City Champions — these titles describe Tennessee High's tremendous football season. In his second season as head coach, Fred Keller built up the players through rugged summer practices, and then piloted his team to an 8-2 record.

Paced by defensive stalwarts John Keller, Danny Large, Danny Cook, Delmar Harrington, Jimmy Butcher, and Doug Williams, and offensive standouts David Booher, Marty Winchell, Buddy Royston, and Eddie Barnes; the Norsemen proved to be one of THS's finest teams. The year was overshadowed by a heartbreaking loss to Morristown which cost the Vikings sole possession of the Big Seven Conference title and was highlighted by wins over Johnson City and Virginia High.

The difference between success and failure, happiness and sadness, and honor and disgrace all lie in the actions of the student body. This year we as students, have met many responsibilites. Through our endless hours of work we have bettered our community, our school, and, most important, ourselves. As a result of this energy, we now stand not strictly as seniors, juniors, sophomores, or freshmen but as a united student body who is proud of its Alma Mater.

Mrs Fisher,

If I forget all of my teachers, I don't think I could forget you. Your class has been one of enjoyment and interest to me. The freedom of express ones feelings and ideals is my greatest love for the class I had under you. There seems to be an unrestrained, easy atmosphere which you had a great deal to do with I know. Thanks for making me want to be a responsible student.

As always,
Pat Felty

Planning to be a veterinarian, President Dave Rutherford gets plenty of training from his work with the animals on his father's farm. Dave will attend either Cornell University or the University of Tennessee.

Bill Mauney, who is serving as vice-president, plans to go into some field of engineering. Bill is now considering Georgia Tech or the University of Tennessee as his secondary education.

JUNIOR

Our chaplain, Carol Christian, plans to enter her vocation in church work and music, perhaps as a Bible teacher. Carol is now a member in the band and chorus and will later major in religion.

VIKING

At the helm of the 1969 Viking Ship again this year is Charley Burroughs. Charley plays guard on the football team and is in the Key Club. Charley says that he is very proud of BTHS and is going to do his best for his school.

First mate to Charley is Chris Keller. Chris is the only sophomore cheerleader and says that this is the highest honor a girl can receive in high school. Chris is from a truly football family—her father is head coach and her brother co-captain. She says "I feel as if I have a reason to yell just a little louder for these two people."

Patsy McCall is in charge of keeping the log for the second time. Patsy is business manager of Viking Voices and is in the Anchor Club. When asked what she thought of BTHS she says simply "Love it."

OF THE SHIP '69

In charge of the shillings this year is Sandra Loving. She worked very hard on the sophomore float. Sandra lists her hobbies as horseback riding and swimming which she does mostly in the summertime. She says that she is very proud to be an officer in a school as great as BTHS.

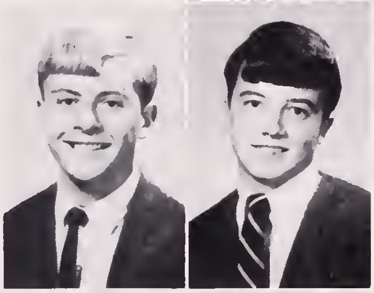
David Barbe



Joyce Ball
Sherry Beckner

Linda Bently

Chaplain this year is Brown Caldwell. Brown is very involved in school activities. He lists as his extracurricular activities the Cadmus Club, the Key Club, and the band, in which he works very hard. He was Hansel in "Hansel and Gretel" for the Bristol Children's Theatre this fall. Brown says that he wouldn't trade BTHS for any other school.

Charles Blair
Joe Boggs

Eddie Booher
Randall Booher

In charge of the brigg for the 1969 Viking Ship is Bobby Leonard. Bobby doesn't have any club activities, but attends most of the games and is very school spiritied. He makes average grades and works hard in all of his studies. Bobby plans to play football next year and all '69ers will be with him. In his own words Bobby says that "THS is great."

CLASS OF '69

As we entered the door of dear old BTHS for the second year, we felt superior to our freshman friends. We looked forward to seeing old friends and becoming acquainted with new ones. We anxiously awaited our new subjects, and throughout the year we worked for unity and achievement.

The second year of high school has now gone before our eyes. Following this year of achievement tests, ball games, programs, and classes, we have now prepared ourselves for life as upperclassmen.

Patty Pierce (right) and Sharon Hensley enjoy life.

FRESHMAN

Mike Peters—President

Presiding over the class of '70 is Mike Peters. His interests lie in the fields of music and commercial art. He plays the rhythm guitar for the popular Hangmen Dance Band. He also serves on the youth jury.

Jim Alderson—Vice-President

Assuming the responsibility of vice-president is Jim Alderson. Jim plays forward on his church basketball squad and sings in the youth choir. He works as head usher at the Paramount Theater.

Lois Shanks—Secretary

Taking down the minutes of the freshman class is Lois Shanks. She is a member of the Y-Teens and the youth jury. Lois enjoys spectator sports such as football, basketball, and baseball.

Mrs. Fisher,
Remember this great year in Am. Histo.
Stay your sweet self and you will never go wrong.
Love ya.
Reid Kirk

While attending Tennessee High School, we are constantly preparing for tomorrow's opportunities and responsibilities. Needless to say, the key factor in this preparation lies in our faculty. It is through their knowledge and past experience that we are able to understand the complex world we now live in and gain foresight for tomorrow's world.

ORGANIZATIONS

Mrs. Fisher,

I know you are my favorite teacher at Tenn. High. And I mean that. I feel like I can talk to you easily and that helps a lot. I've really enjoyed Govt. class and getting to know you a little better than just a teacher. You're really very sweet and not mean – HA! HA! I won't forget arguing with Ellen about how you hair looks best – I hope I see you a lot this summer, I'll probably be right over there bugging you to death cause – I like to talk to you about all my horrible problems – they really

The success of a school depends largely upon the accomplishments of its clubs. Within our school we have many civic-minded groups which aid the school not only in a material manner but also through the outstanding example which they have displayed outside the school. As a student body, we owe a great deal of gratitude to these clubs and to their sponsors.

aren't that horrible –
I sure wish I could take another year of Govt. – that's a joke – HA!

I'll be good

Love
Linda M.

CADMUS CLUB

The work of the Annual Staff began during the hot summer months with the selling of ads. Later they worked hard at meeting deadlines, and after hours of frustrations they produced an annual which was worthy of this outstanding school.

KEY CLUBBERS ACTIVE

Phil Abercrombie

Brown Caldwell

The Key Club, which is sponsored by Mr. Richard K. Burk, began the year by instructing freshmen and by the selling of Viking buttons and cushions. Throughout the football season they increased school spirit through various school projects. At the same time the club ushered at football games and sponsored reserve seats. During V-T Week the Key Clubbers sponsored the car parade and sold mums. A family was taken as a Santa Pal during Christmas. Two publications, the Tennessee High School Directory and the basketball program, were compiled and sold by them. The year was then highlighted by Twirp Week—a festive week when the girls ask the boys for dates.

It seems funny writing in your annual, but I sure have enjoyed being in your American Government this year, and your World History class last year. I think you are one of the best teachers Tennessee High has. I have a lot of respect for you and always will. I'll be around next year droping in to see you, because I don't think I'll be in any of your classes next year. Have a nice summer.

DIARY

Remember the V-T game? Class Night? We all do, and we shall always remember them. Each day this year brought us new and exciting events which we will never forget. Many of these memories were captured in the thousand words of a picture. And within the boundaries of the diary each of us can see those days of trial, responsibility, and gaiety.

Coach Keller instructs Eddie Bricker in a football play.

Summer

Our diary starts
With summertime passing
The days that were full of Fun everlasting.

Hard work and determination makes a good football team.

The Viking Band works many hot hours to prepare itself for the year.

Penny

Viking Cheerleaders set aside summer practice to join in a bit of horseplay.

Students talk over summer fun during study hall.

September

Freshmen had feared
And seniors remembered,
Confusion that came
With the start of

Mike Rodgers peeks at the camera during a nap.

Mr. Reser gives his new English class a sly look to start the new year.

Keller's boys enjoy a late hour pep session.

October

Leaves turned to gold
As summer was over,
And with football preceding Came days of October

Coach Keller and the referees take time out for a little discussion during the Kingsport game.

KIWANIS KIDS' DAY

Jeannie Worley, Randy Outland, and Kathy Danial sell peanuts for Kiwanis Kids Day.

Alice Broome asks John Outland to share during the Sadie Hawkins activities.

Susan Tissot decorates the goal post for a ballgame.

V-T Week

The Norsemen all cried
With great peals of glee.
As we rolled once again
To sure victory.

Hal Overbay gives a root for the team during the V-T pep session.

Bathing Beauties, Eddie Barker, Joey Arrants, and of course, the all time winner, Tommy Belcher, put on a show for the student body.

The Bearcat who joined in the bonfire festivities certainly received a warm welcome.

Stomp the
Penny

Lynn Burlson, Chris Keller, Kathy Danial, and Penny Texter participate in the V-T Queen contest.

Mr. Boretsky introduces Dr. Addkinson to speak for the last time as the Tennessee School Superintendent.

The cars line up for the V-T car parade.

Junior High cheerleaders talk over Tennessee High's V-T pep session in which they cheered.

November

As days quickly passed
It was nice to remember,
The fun that was had
In the month of November

Cathy Dinicolangelo tries out the latest hair-do fad.

Hal Overby and Jacki Russell enjoy themselves during Thanksgiving.

Nick Gray Beal and David Booher promenade down the aisle in a basketball pep session.

December

December arrived
With Christmas at best.
And brought as a gift
A long needed rest.

Ole Saint Nick, Charlie Schlipf, asks Sandra Tickle for a Batmobile to cruise around in.

Jim Butcher and Buddy Royston enjoy snow during December.

Molly Davis and Kay Barrett exchange gifts at Christmas.

The Chorus sings carols in the halls before Christmas holidays.

Twirp Week

Jim Buchanan collects penny votes for Twirp King and Queen.

The valentines
And hearts aglow,
Meant time for girls
To pay the tow.

Linda Stivers pays for her date during movie night.

Linda Saul & Eddie Long happily accept money from Judy Kyle and her date.

All seem to enjoy themselves, especially the boys, who enjoyed the fact that everything was at the cost of the girls.

Finally the awaited moment arrives. King and Queen: John Todd and Susan Tissot. First and second runner up: Powell Moore and Lynn Burleson. A fine choice!

Spring

Spring brought the months
That ended our year.
With mostly a smile
And sometimes a tear.

Spring fever attacks Tom Makres as he makes a dashing escape out the window.

Bob Wolfe seems to be enjoying the warm weather in a most peculiar kind of way!?

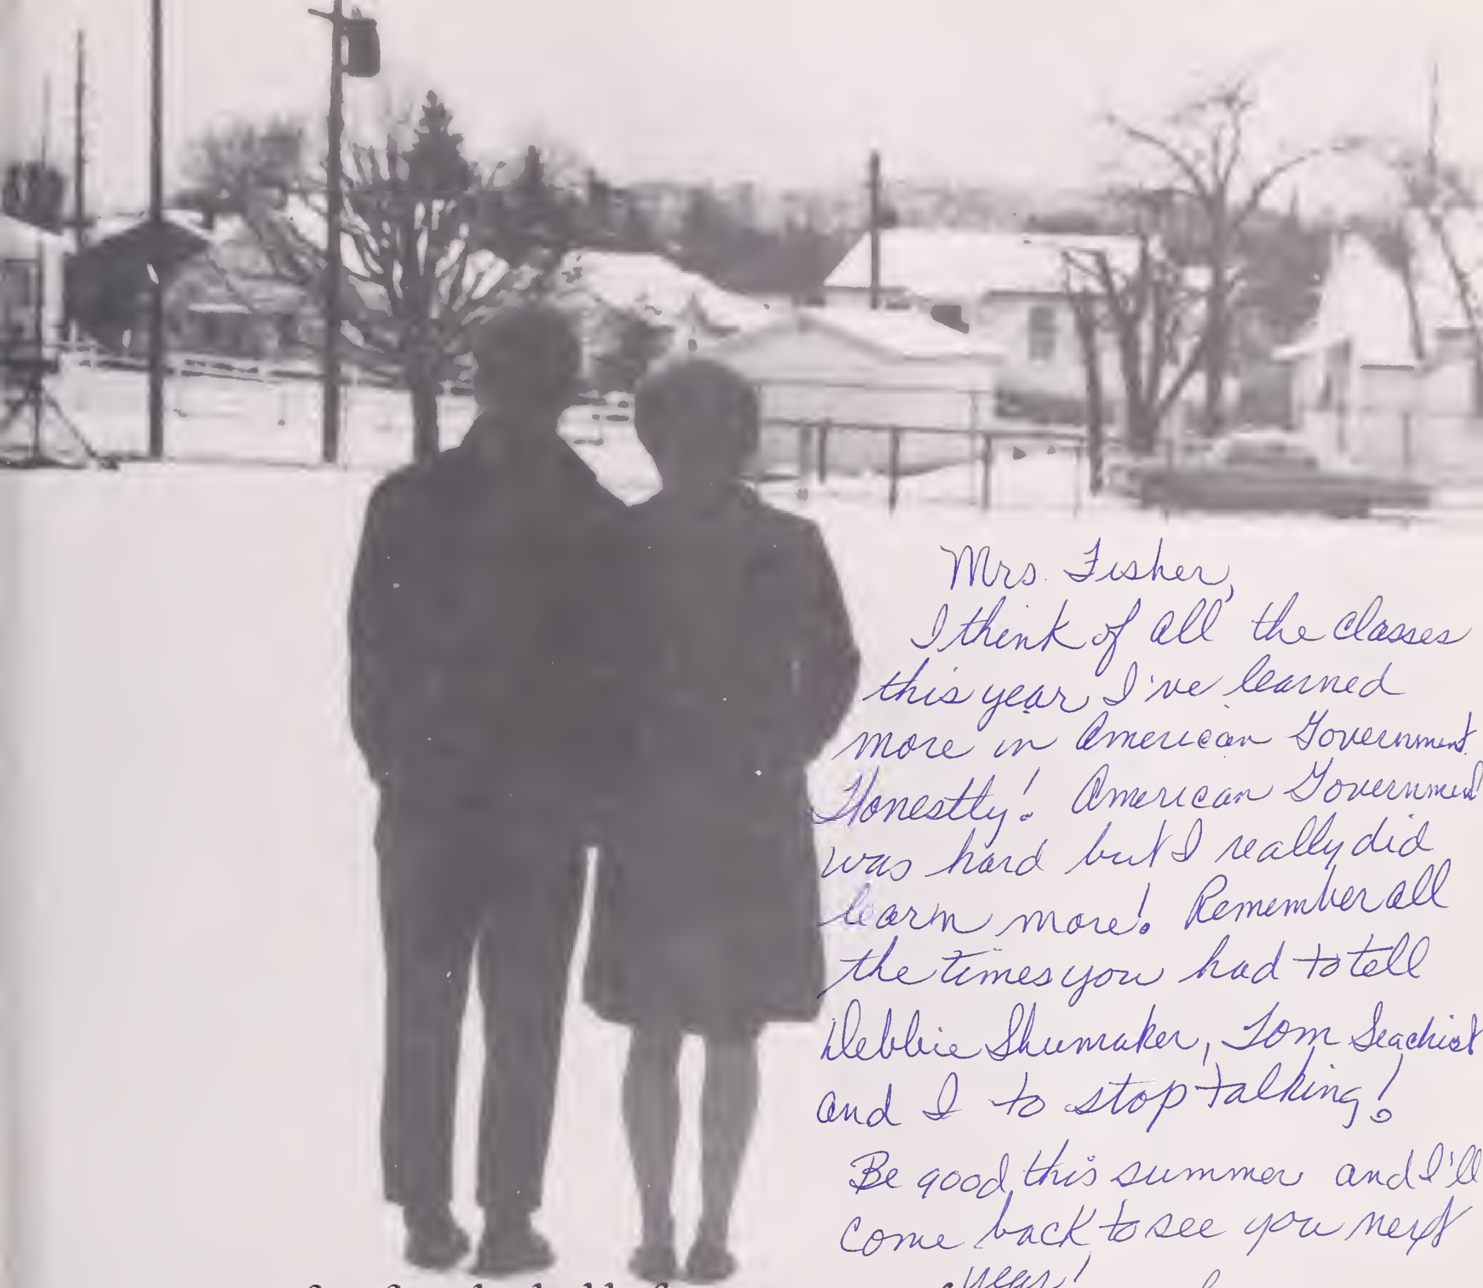
Professional football player, Bill Wade, speaks on behalf of the 1967 Preaching Mission.



Mrs. Fisher,
I think of all the classes this year I've learned more in American Government. Honestly! American Government was hard but I really did learn more! Remember all the times you had to tell Debbie Shumaker, Tom Seachist and I to stop talking!
Be good this summer and I'll come back to see you next year!
Love,

Dear Mrs [illegible]
I really have missed you this year. I felt lost in a way. I was sorry I didn't have you [illegible] also. Remember all our great [illegible] year. I am sure glad I had you though. As you look back through the years I hope you find my memory both refreshing and worthwhile. The college is just around the corner and I am very glad to get to go. I really wish you were going along to help me out. I shall always remember you as my favorite teacher. May God richly bless you forever.

Dear Mrs. Fisher,
I really feel I have learned so much this year, and especially in World History. I didn't study as much as I should but because of your great teaching job, some of it did sink in! I hope you continue your profession in the social studies because teachers like you are really needed. Take care.
Meg MacLeod

Dear Miss Fisher,
Sure has been nice of you to let me look out the window this year. Hope to see you next year. Good Luck and have a nice summer.
Gale Ford

Mrs. Fisher.
Nice being in your home room. best of Luck in the future years.

Mrs Fisher, It has been great having you as a homeroom teacher. I just hope that next year I will have a homeroom teacher that will be as nice as you were this year. Best of Luck
Selma Franklin

Mrs. Fisher,
I have enjoyed you very much as a teacher and especially as a person. By you have brought back human faith that teachers are lovely and can be very person. I wish you'd come teach for me next year at T. H. S. If not be good to your students at T. H. S., for you have an excellent reputation as a teacher. (She's a hard teacher!) Thank you again.
Sincerely
Penny Ann Lester

Mrs Fisher,
It has been great having you as a teacher. I wish I could take Govt. again just so I could have you. You're the kind of teacher I like, not just to teach but you get the job done.
Good times
Lori Seabrist

Another year of our short lives is now gone. Hopefully it has been a year in which we have matured as young adults and have learned as dedicated students. Again we must look into our broad and unforeseen futures. By living in a land of opportunities such as we have, we should not be satisfied with anything less than our best — our full potential. Therefore, let us strive to set and maintain our highest goals, for the sky is the limit!

Mrs Fisher

It's been fun if nothing else being in your homeroom this year. Good Luck & Best Wishes

Dear Mrs Fisher,

It's been a pleasure knowing you these past four years. I am so glad I was able to have you for a teacher.

I have enjoyed this year under you very much.

Best wishes! Jan Robinson

Dear Mrs. Fisher,

I have always been under the impression that History is a rather uninteresting, if not boring subject. I should like to sincerely thank you for showing me otherwise. I only wish I could have been here the whole year. I will be taking a summer course in W. Hist at E.T.S.U., but I am sure I will not benefit as much by it as I would have by your teaching. You are known not only as an excellent teacher, but as a very wonderful person by your students. I intend to major in History and hope to have you for American Government next year;

Sincerely

Maurine Davidson

Dear Mrs. Fisher

It has been a pleasure having you for a teacher again this year. Best of luck in the Future.

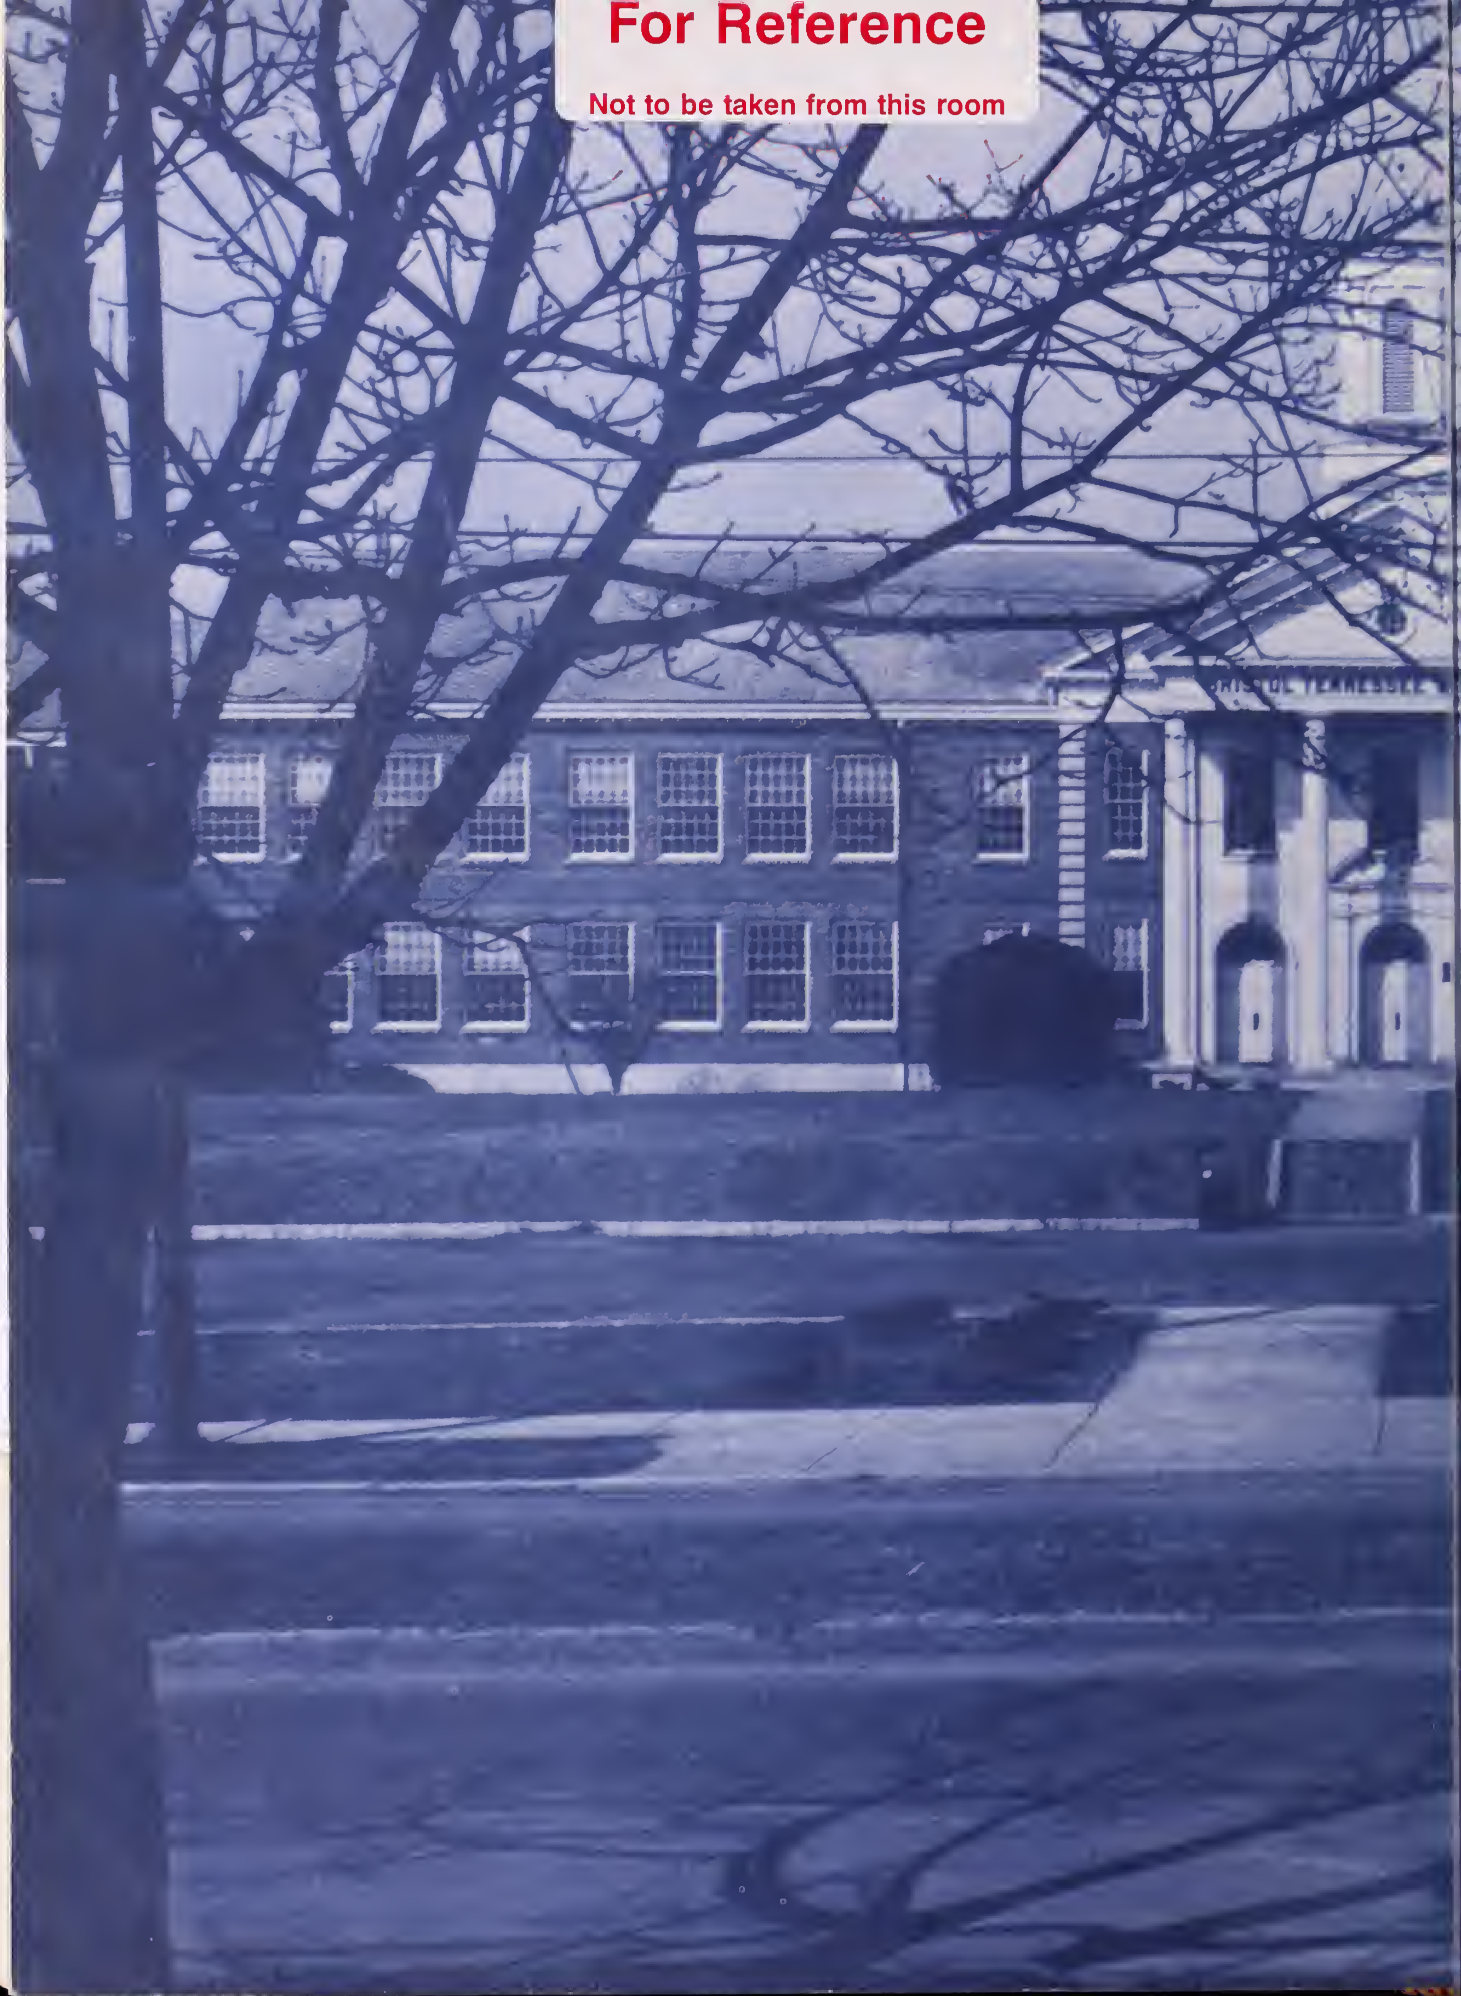
Not to be taken from this room



Dear Mrs. Fisher,

Best wishes always to one of the nicest people I know. You've been a wonderful homeroom teacher.

Love always,
